

CAMP CONNELLY Not Just Another Newsletter

Camp Connelly is an extraordinary 'e-boot camp,' available to reps 24/7. It is for Financial Advisors who want to get better at what they do. It is designed to take your business to the next level, no matter what level you're at now.

Big producers are not lucky. Big producers have mastered the three basic building blocks of our business - prospecting, closing, and getting referrals. They know who to prospect and they are good at prospecting. They know when it's time to close and they are good closers. They never chicken out when it's time to ask for referrals. Unlike most of us, they never get away from the basics.

Camp Connelly offers members access to an expanding library of shows on different topics—from sales training, sales ideas, prospecting ideas, and stories— 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It also offers members access to new webinars, podcasts, and newsletters. In addition, members will hear from other industry experts as well as some of the top sales people in their professions.
